ARTIS

Experience ARTIS like never before

In ARTIS, the oldest zoo in the Netherlands, you can host a dinner or gathering in the beautifully restored Groote Museum or dance the night away in the Planetarium.

Give a presentation under the watchful eyes of our former directors or hold a meeting surrounded by bamboo wallpaper in one of the restored halls of the Noord Paviljoen.

At ARTIS, nature, culture, and heritage come together. Every tree, every animal, every building, every microbe, and every planet tells its own story. The stories of ARTIS have been unfolding since 1838 – and new ones are born every day. Experience it for yourself, together with your guests. An event can easily be combined with a guided tour of the park.

RIJKS® Cuisine of the 'lowlands'

In 2014, RIJKS® opened its doors in the Philips Wing of the Rijksmuseum, with Joris Bijdendijk as executive chef. Following an extensive renovation, the restaurant reopened in 2023 with a completely redesigned interior and a new menu.

Together with chefs Yascha Oosterberg and Friso van Amerongen, Bijdendijk represents the 'cuisine of the lowlands,' characterized by the pure simplicity of Dutch ingredients, also known as 'Low Food.' His young team draws inspiration from local produce, enhanced by the many international flavors that have influenced Dutch cuisine over the centuries.

RIJKS® was awarded a Michelin star in 2016, increased its Gault & Millau rating from 16.5 to 17 points in 2019, and that same year, was featured in the prestigious 50 Best Discovery list by the team behind The World's 50 Best Restaurants.

For an exclusive reception or private dinner, you can reserve the private dining space at RIJKS®. The entire restaurant is also available for exclusive bookings upon request.

Nieuwe kerk Delft

A church for the city, a home for the city

For centuries, our churches have been defining landmarks in the city, and they still are today. Buildings rich in history, and full of future potential. On Sundays, several congregations of the Protestant Church of Delft gather here for worship. During the week, the church is open for visitors, exhibitions, cultural events, and community encounters. That is how we live up to our motto: 'A church for the city, a home for the city.'

The Nieuwe Kerk is sure to impress your guests with its monumental architecture and historic grandeur. From the majestic Bätz organ with 3,000 pipes to centuries of Dutch heritage, including the tomb of William of Orange and stained glass windows that command attention, this building radiates significance.

Planning a large gathering for up to 1,300 people, a conference, a reception, or a grand seated dinner for up to 600? The Nieuwe Kerk is the ideal venue for your event in the historic heart of Delft. You are most welcome.

Werkspoorkathedraal

Space to grow

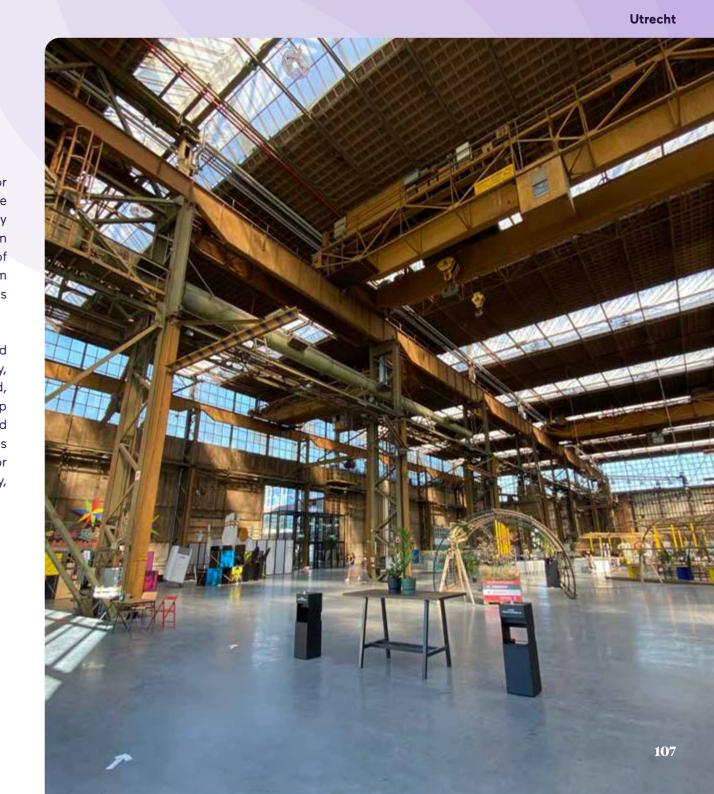

In 1960, the assembly hall of the former Werkspoor factory opened its doors in Zuilen, right along the Amsterdam-Rhine Canal. More than half a century later, this raw and spacious industrial site has been transformed into a unique setting for all kinds of events. From food festivals to corporate events, from small-scale product launches to full-blown conferences for up to 2,500 guests, the possibilities are endless.

The Wasruimte: This former washroom once welcomed hundreds of factory workers at the start of each day, as they changed into their work clothes. At day's end, with oil still on their hands, they returned to clean up before heading home. With its original white tiles and industrial washbasins still in place, the Wasruimte retains its authentic charm. It is the perfect intimate venue for gatherings of 80 to 150 guests – whether for a party, a breakout session, or a smaller conference.

Groninger Museum

A feast for the eyes

Planning a conference, reception, day out, party, presentation, or meeting? The Groninger Museum is an inspiring venue for events and receptions of all sizes. The exhibition and reception spaces offer an atmosphere full of tranquility, color, and ambiance.

In the colorful entrance hall of the museum, you are immediately surrounded by art. Here, you will find the famous spiral staircase by Mendini, and on the ceiling, an artwork by François Morellet. This beautifully designed space is frequently used for receptions, drinks, and dinners.

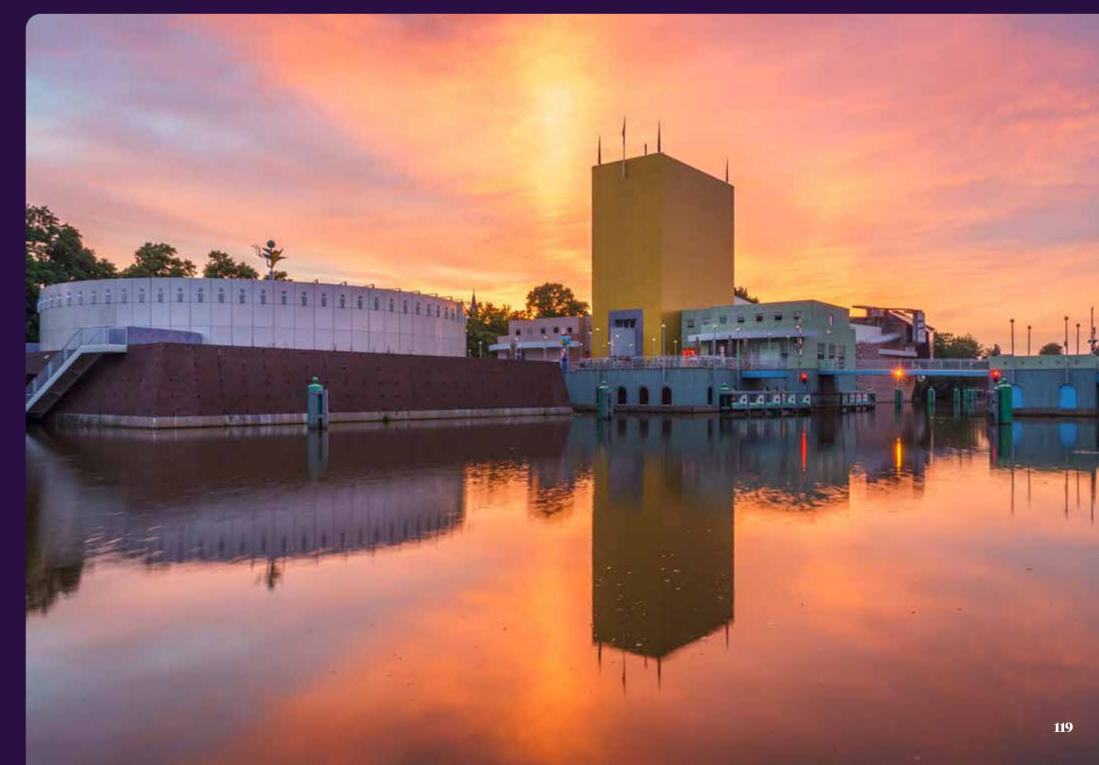

Anyone descending the beautiful mosaic staircase by Mendini will find themselves in the colorful lower hall, which is also the starting point for the exhibitions. It's perfectly suited for receptions, drinks, and dinners. The Job Lounge is also a stylish, multifunctional reception area with the timeless atmosphere of a Grand Hotel.

The recently renovated Café Groninger Museum, since December this year, is the place for exclusive drinks and (walking) dinners after the museum closes. The Café itself is a work of art, designed by artist Maarten Baas.

De AkerkThe memory of a living city

On the eastern bank of the River A, a small chapel was built around the year 1200. It soon grew into a large cruciform basilica – a church in the shape of a cross. One thing has remained constant over the past eight centuries: the Akerk stands in the very heart of city life. Much of what unfolded outside its walls is still reflected within. The Akerk is more than a monument of architecture and art, it is a place filled with stories, both grand and intimate. It is the living memory of a city that continues to evolve.

Centrally located in Groningen, the Akerk is a stunning and versatile venue for a wide range of events. Whether you are planning a dinner, reception, corporate celebration, or wedding, this space offers timeless ambiance and excellent acoustics – making it equally ideal for concerts and live performances.
